CHARGE AGAINST CHAIRMAN DEBOE IS MISFEASANCE

Because He Reversed Himself
to Gain Unlawful Control of Convention.

Eight of Thirteen Counties Are Against Him.

LOST HIS GRIP ON COMMITTEE

Charges of misfeasance in office will be preferred against W. J. Deboe, chairman of the First district congressional committee, before the state central committee, of which he is a member, on account of his unfair ruling in the district convention in this city last Wednesday. Those charges will go before the present central committee, which will also decide the contest between Jerry M. Porter, of Clinton, and Judge Walter Blackburn, of Crittenden county, for the congressional nomination, and the contest between Frank P. Harris and Ed Thomas, of Fulton, for the nomination for presidential elector. If the charges against Deboe are sustained, he will be removed, but the contest between R. R. Miller, of this city, and J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, for the office of district chairman and central committee man from the First district, will be decided by the incoming state central committee, which passes upon the qualifications of its own members.

Ground of the Charges.

The ruling of W. J. Deboe complained of was that he seated the Callaway county Fairbanks delegation, because it had credentials certified to by the county chairman, while he refused to seat the Graves county Taft delegation, which also had credentials signed by the county chairman. In the latter case he said he considered affidavits of the contesting Fairbanks delegation. But the contesting Callaway county Taft delegation also had affidavits, which he did not consider.

To understand the ruling made by the chairman one must understand the situation in the district. Regardless of the merits of controversies arising over county conventions, the following Taft delegations had credentials certified to by their respective county chairmen: Carlisle, 5 votes; Fulton, 6 votes; Hickman, 7 votes; Graves, 6 votes; Lyon, 7 votes; McCracken, 24 votes; Tigg, 13 votes; Marshall, 9 votes, making a total of 87 votes.

The following Fairbanks delegations had credentials certified to by their respective chairmen: Ballard, 6 votes; Crittenden, 17 votes; Callaway, 8 votes; Caldwell, 11 votes; Livingston, 8 votes, making a total of 50 votes.

In Callaway and Ballard counties the Taft men contested the right of the Fairbanks delegation to sit in the convention, and in Carlisle, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, McCracken and Tigg counties the Fairbanks men contested the right of the Taft men to sit in the convention. No contest was made on the grounds that the county chairmen did not certify to the credentials, but all were on some contention arising over the county conventions.

The Credentials Committee.

Rules of the state central committee are such that all district conventions, like other parliamentary bodies, pass upon the credentials of their own members, and these conventions are Democratic. That is, not the chairman, but the convention itself passes upon the rights of delegates to seats. The convention does this by its credentials committee, which is composed of one member from each county elected by the delegates from that county, who sit in the temporary organization. That is fixed by the state committee's rules also.

Says He is 102 Years Old.

Trying to sell enough money to carry his daughter to Danville, Tenn., John Johnson, an old negro, who says he is 102 years old last Christmas, was a conspicuous figure on the city hall steps today. Johnson lives at Danville and was given transportation to this city to see his daughter, on the steamer Kentucky. Today he was soliciting enough money to pay his daughter's fare back home. Johnson says Paducah was his home for many years, but in slave time he was a slave of George Outlaw, in Tennessee. His former master left him a home in Danville, Tenn.

Constantinople, March 14.—Four hundred houses were destroyed by fire here, and three thousand people are homeless.

Defeat of McChord Bill Ends Hope of Tobacco Legislation For This Session of The General Assembly.

House Refuses to Concur in Senate Substitute for Measure and It is Too Late to Get Together.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—(Special.)—House rejected by a vote of 73 to 9 the Senate substitute to the McChord bill adopted by the senate. This practically settles the hope of tobacco legislation. The McChord bill placed tobacco buyers and manufacturers under control of the board of agriculture with police powers. It was advocated by planters' organizations and fought by buyers.

Neely Cut Off His Foot.

Granville, March 14. (Special.)—Will Leutes, a young man of this place, nearly cut off his right foot yesterday while making tobacco hogsheads at his farm. He struck his foot accidentally. The wound was dressed by Dr. S. Z. Holland, and it is hoped to save the foot, unless blood poisoning sets in.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR WORK OPENING IN THIS CITY.

"As soon as the river recedes enough, we shall have plenty of work to keep a great, big force employed for some time, said the foreman of the marine ways today. "We are securing just any amount of repair work and shall be able to use some of the blue men about the city." More and more men are finding employment, now, as the good weather has set in. While there is but little new building under consideration, there will be a good deal of repair work, and carpenters, painters and plumbers will be kept busy. The painters have been quite busy for the last two weeks dressing up more fronts on Broadway, and the prospects are for a busy season.

Hill Billies Waylay Night Riders.

Port Royal, Tenn., March 14.—The sheriff of Montgomery county is still at work unraveling the mystery surrounding the assassination of Vaughn Bennett, and he discovered what he intends to follow up. On the night of the assassination it is said a message went through the Sango telephone exchange calling on the Hill Billies to assemble at the rendezvous, that the Night Riders had started out on a raid; that fifteen had just passed the place from which the telephone message was being sent. This man at the other end of the line replied that already several parties in bugles had started for the meeting place.

Thursday another man was heard to remark when "I saw the crowd passing, I knew that all of them would not get back."

HOW FIGURES SHOW FORTH SITUATION IN REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST

Harry Lissner Says People Smile at Robust Claims of Favorite Son Pool Against Administration.

New York, March 14.—Despite the bitter fight on the part of those opposed to the continuance of the domination of Mr. Roosevelt over the Republican party in consequence to the nomination of William H. Taft for the presidency, the Ohio man has forged ahead steadily, and from present indications it looks as though he is apt to be named on the first ballot, and if not then, positively on the second, says Edward Lissner, the newspaper correspondent. He will enter the convention, according to present calculations with nearly 600 votes, but in the event of his failure to have this number or a majority he will be the second choice of enough delegates to bring about a victory. This is generally conceded by leaders here. They believe that "the favorite son" game which some thought would beat the secretary by deadlocking the convention and forcing the nomination of a dark horse, will prove ineffectual.

It was impossible to interest the rank and file in candidates not placed in the field with any prospect of success. The only man who might have been able to put up a stiff fight as the leader of the anti-Roosevelt forces was Gov. Charles E. Hughes. His radicalism made him just as obnoxious to many as Mr. Roosevelt, and so the game continued of fighting for Fairbanks, Knox, Cannon and Foraker in the hope that combined they might control a majority of the delegates. It should be added that certain newspaper and leaders friendly to this movement have been claiming everything of late and crying their

JAP MINISTRY IS OVERTHROWN---A SQUADRON SAILS

Tokio, March 14.—The general election returns indicate the overthrow of the present ministry as practically certain. Marquis Katsura will be the next premier.

Squadron Sails.
Hong Kong, March 14.—Information was received that the first Japanese squadron will sail today on a secret mission. Five cruisers and smaller vessels have been loaded ready to sail on notice from Sasebo. The navy department is exceedingly busy.

Pekin, March 14.—The Chinese foreign office is completing a draft of the document in which China offers to pay Japan 214,000 yen, about $107,000, and retain the arms that form the cargo of the Tatsu Maru, and she will also pay 10,000 taels demurrage on the steamer. It is expected the steamer will be released Monday. Japan agrees to adopt strict regulations preventing future traffic in arms from Japan into China.

Trash Boxes Set Out.
The trash boxes to be placed on the street corners on Broadway to the Sixth street have been completed and will be placed in position at once. One box will be placed on each side of the street at every corner along the route designated.

Dallas, March 14.—Former United States Senator Roger Q. Mills today declined the nomination for electoral college made by anti-Bailey state mass meeting. Mills says he is keeping out of factional fights.

WILLIE SMITH WAS NOT WILL SMITH OF CULLEY'S.

A Willie Smith was one of the men arrested and fined in the police court this week for gambling last Saturday night, and Mr. Will Smith, of Roy L. Culley & company, has been worried by some of his friends confusing the name with his. In justice to Mr. Smith the announcement is made that it was another.

SCHOOL CENSUS

S. J. Billington, superintendent of county schools, next week will send out the blanks for the enumerators in the different county school districts to take the census of school children. The census will be taken during the month of April, and is important to teachers as their pay is based upon the number of children in each district.

Edison Recovers.

New York, March 14.—Thomas A. Edison has so far recovered that he will leave today for Florida.

HAARON COMPELLED TO FORM NEW CABINET

Christiania, March 14.—King Haakon has summoned the Radical leader of the storthing to aid in the formation of a new cabinet. The present ministry is expected to resign today, because it is unable to maintain a majority in the storthing.

30 HOGSHEADS OF POOLED TOBACCO SOLD IN PADUCAH

Thirty hogsheads of association tobacco have been sold by Salesman Veale, on the Paducah market this week, the prices paid ranging from 7 to 12 cents.

Over 2,500 types of tobacco prized this season have been received by the salesmen, and of that amount about 500 hogsheads have been sold at schedule prices. The number of hogsheads sold here are about 150 more than at any other point in the dark tobacco district. Hopkinsville being next in the number of hogsheads sold.

Tobacco is now in a much better condition for handling than at any time since the present crop was placed in the barn and from now on little trouble is expected to arise from soft tobacco.

FOUR GRAFTERS ARE FOUND GUILTY AT HARRISBURG

Contractor, Auditor, Treasurer
and Superintendent in Toils for Theft.

Pennsylvania Capitol Case is Bearing Fruit.

FOURTEEN WERE INDICTED

Harrisburg, Pa., March 14.—The jury in the first of the capitol conspiracy cases to be tried, gave a verdict of guilty as to every one of the four men who have been on trial here for the last seven weeks.

The men convicted are John H. Sanderson, contractor; Wm. P. Snyder, former auditor general; W. L. Mathis, former state treasurer; James M. Shanaker, former superintendent of public buildings and grounds.

They were convicted of defrauding the state in furnishing the new capitol which cost the state about $13,000,000 instead of $4,000,000, the figure at which the contract was estimated.

The prosecution of the alleged frauds was the outcome of the political upheaval in Pennsylvania in 1905, which resulted in the election of William H. Berry, Democrat, as state treasurer.

Berry threw open the books of the state treasury and showed that the cost of building the capitol was more than three times the amount of the contract.

The case was laid before the attorney general and indictments found against fourteen persons.

When the cases now pending against the four persons who were convicted today, are concluded, other defendants will be heard.

The state claims that there are funds to nearly $5,000,000 in furnishing of the capitol.

WILLIE SMITH WAS NOT WILL SMITH OF CULLEY'S.

A Willie Smith was one of the men arrested and fined in the police court this week for gambling last Saturday night, and Mr. Will Smith, of Roy L. Culley & company, has been worried by some of his friends confusing the name with his. In justice to Mr. Smith the announcement is made that it was another.

Governor Willson and Party Pass Through One Band of Night Riders Returning From Burning Tobacco.

THIS SHE MONKEY.
Paris, France, March 14.—The reason for Count Bond splitting in Prince de Sagan's eye is made plain by a letter just published, which Prince de Sagan wrote about Anna Gould to a woman of the town, who demanded money from him. The letter was purchased by George Gould to break off the de Sagan engagement. It runs: "Ma Coquette Adoree—I have not a penny now, but wait until I am safely married to my old she monkey, and I will show you how we can make the money fly."

BARGE TENDERS GO DOWN WITH BARGES NEAR ASHLAND, KY.

Ashland, Ky., March 14. (Special.)—The towboat Boaz with a big coal deck struck a bridge pier here this morning and a number of barges sank. Five men are believed to have been lost. All were barge tenders.

Mine Operations Blocked.

Indianapolis, March 14.—The Ohio coal mine operators today advised President Mitchell that Ohio operators would not be ready to negotiate a contract until after April 1. This blocks any move to have the mines continue in operation. Pennsylvania and Illinois mine operators are willing to meet Mitchell. Ohio operators, it is believed, intend to discredit Mitchell.

ROBBERS ESCAPE

Wann, Okla., March 14.—After a desperate fight robbers who robbed the Tyro, Kas. bank Friday, escaped from a posse today, when it was thought they would be taken. Two horses were shot from under the members of the posse. Several posses are continuing the pursuit today.

REFUSES TO HONOR GOV. WILLSON'S REQUISITION.

Nashville, Tenn., March 14.—Gov. Patterson refused to honor a requisition from Governor Willson of Kentucky, for Bud Waters, colored, now under arrest at Glasgow, Tenn., charged with sending a box of poisoned fruit from Union City, Tenn., to his wife at Clinton, Ky. Governor Patterson says he thinks Governor Willson has been deceived and that the warrant was not sworn out in good faith.

RAISULI DEEPLY RELIGIOUS MAN SON OF PROPHET

London, March 14.—Hippodrome Manager Trussell has returned from the Moroccan interior, where he failed to induce Raisuli, the bandit, to take an engagement in a music hall. Trussell said Raisuli is a high and important personage, a holy man in direct lineage of the prophet, deeply learned and passes his time in religious exercises. Raisuli wouldn't consider the proposition.

MADISONVILLE WINS CONTEST AT HOPKINSVILLE

Paducah Orator Takes Next
Prize and Proves Most Popular
With Audience.

Owensboro and Henderson
Highs May Join.

POINTS JUDGES CONSIDERED

Madisonville High school won the oratorical contest last night at Hopkinsville although Edward Mitchell, the Paducah representative, gave Clarence Jennings a brave fight for the honor, and it is said that his speech was more popular with the audience than the winner's. It was the composition of Mr. Jennings' oration that won the decision for him. "The True Measure of a Man," was his subject, and he handled it in masterful style. His speech was along the line of the fighting of the silent battles measures the worth of a man, and not the fights before the grandstand for the applause.

Mr. Mitchell made a fine address on "Kentucky," and he was applauded frequently. In his review of "Night Riding," he was given close attention, and when he said that the better citizens of Kentucky deplored the lawlessness, the citizens of Hopkinsville gave him the ovation of the evening.

Caldwell Feland spoke on "An American Nobleman," the inspiration being drawn from the life of William McKinley, and was received favorably by the audience, although the speaker lacked the ease and dignity of the other two speakers.

Over 1,500 people cheered the young orators onward, and the yells of the schools kept things lively. Paducah was not represented by a large delegation, and could do little of the cheering, but the other schools were complimentary and cheered the Paducah representative frequently. In reaching a decision the judges considered the delivery, subject matter and the style equally.

Other Schools.

Next year the contest will be held at Madisonville, and in 1910 Paducah will be honored with the contest. The promoters were enthused, and the High schools of Princeton and Owensboro may be taken in before the next meeting. Henderson may be admitted, which would bring the number to six. The Paducah delegation returned this morning and say Hopkinsville extended every hospitality.

The program was:
Address: of Welcome—Thomas Smith.

"An American Nobleman"—Caldwell Feland.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Hamlett.

"Kentucky"—Edward Mitchell.

"The True Measure of a Man"—Clarence Jennings.

Violin Solo—Miss Stirling.

SURGEON DIES OF BLOOD POISONING AFTER OPERATING

Dr. David Gardner died last night in a hospital at McAlester, Ok., of blood poisoning, as the result of wounding himself while performing an operation. Dr. Joseph Gardner, Fifth and Clark streets, left early this morning for Lehigh, where the funeral and burial will take place. Dr. Gardner was the eldest son of the late Jesse H. Gardner, one of Paducah's most prominent citizens. He was born in Paducah and had been away from Paducah 25 years. His mother, Mrs. S. M. Gardner, lives on South Sixth street, and he leaves one sister, Mrs. Hal S. Corbett, of North Eighth street, and three brothers, Dr. Joseph Gardner, Mr. Armour Gardner, the United States commissioner, and Jesse Gardner, of St. Louis.

Dr. Gardner leaves five sons and one daughter, all living in Lehigh. His eldest son is a physician in the hospital where his father died. Dr. Gardner died last night at 8 o'clock. His first wife was Miss Belle Neal, of Paducah, and after her death he was married to Miss Della Campbell, of Ripley, Tenn., who died five years ago. It is not known when the funeral will be held, but he will not be brought to this city. Dr. Gardner was an active member of the Episcopal church at Lehigh.

Washington, March 14. (Special.)—The bill repealing the six cent tax on tobacco passed the house today. It is the belief it will also pass the senate.

Three Sections of State Disturbed by Marauders Last Night and Much Damage Was Done.

Versailles, Ky., March 14. (Special.)—Thirty masked night riders last night burned the barns of George Strange, George Graddy, Hardin Rogers, Capt. Jim Williams and Mrs. Pepper in this county. All were preparing to raise a crop in 1908. Governor Willson and a party, returning from Lexington to Frankfort, passed through the band on an electric car at McKee's cross roads. The loss is not known.

Burn More Tobacco.

Maysville, Ky., March 14. (Special.)—Night riders destroyed 5,000 pounds of tobacco of Milton McLean, Thomas Gray, who had bought from McLean for the trust, was told to leave town.

Fulton, Ky., March 14.—(Special.)

Two hundred masked night riders shot up the home of Bill Atkins, a farmer, who sold his crop to the trust after he was warned not to do so. His house was riddled.

TOBACCO BOOKS WILL BE OPENED FIRST OF APRIL

The executive committee of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Protective association for McCracken county met in regular monthly session at the salesroom on Broadway this afternoon and passed a resolution instructing Chairman Yarbrough to advocate a resolution to open the books of the association April 1, when the district executive committee meets at Guthrie. It was expressly understood that the chairman was to oppose any measure that would allow any farmer to place his tobacco in the association after it had been contracted for by independent buyers. The members in attendance at the meeting this afternoon were: Chairman J. L. Yarbrough, Secretary McKeage and Committeemen Ed Rudolph, John Cluserman, Ed Ware, Jesse Childers, J. M. McKinzie and C. M. Ross.

Must Clear the Streets.

Paducah's streets must be kept clear of standing vehicles, and the police department will take steps to see that the streets are not used as a wagon yard any longer. There are ordinances prohibiting horses standing on the streets over fifteen minutes and from leaving horses unhitched. On the street with car tracks many buggies have been hitched, and it was a hardship on the fire company in answering an alarm. The central fire company went out Broadway yesterday afternoon in answering an alarm, and Chief Collins said that something had to be done to keep the streets clear of standing vehicles.

Admiral Kane Dies.

New York, March 14.—Rear Admiral Theodore F. Kane, United States navy, died suddenly here today. Heart disease.

JUDGE REVERSES HIS DECISION IN INSURANCE CASE

Princeton, Ky., March 14. (Special.)—Judge Fleming Gordon reversed his decision in the case of the Imperial Tobacco company against several fire insurance companies and decided that a jury must try the action. He based his reversal upon the amended answer to the demurrer of the Imperial company. He decided last week that the companies must pay the Imperial company, which is the British end of the tobacco trust, $40,000 for damages done by the night riders, who burned warehouses here in September. He held the riot clause ineffective as to night riders.

A Child Shall Lead Them.

In enlisting the children for a "city beautiful," the Civics department of the Woman's club is building along wise lines and for the future. The children of today will be the citizens of tomorrow, the future mayors, aldermen, councilmen, board of public works, park commissioners, et al—yes, both boys and girls—and educated to a keen interest and esthetic appreciation of civic cleanliness and beauty, they will be a power in the work.

But to come back to the present. The children if trained and enthused can do even more for a clean Paducah than the board of health or street inspector, for even they are not omniscient. The children scattered here and there over the city can be active agents for street cleaning if once they become keenly alive to the joy of doing it. Just a little of that surplus boy-energy and pent-up steam put into picking up the cans and trash, would make the city feel a pride in its town; and the little done would present a plea for more to keep it company, and so merrily the work would go on. Then, a child is not cowed by that insidious enemy that grown people are continually overpowered by, self-consciousness. They would not mind picking up trash on a down-town street and taking it to the nearest trash-receptacle, if they wanted to, where a "grown-up" might be overcome by the thought of the oddness of it, or the probable dabbling of "crank" or "crazy."

With his children at home interested and talking about a "clean Paducah," that business or professional man will be less apt to throw those envelopes and paper wraps down on the pavement as he opens his mail after leaving the postoffice as is now the easy custom, but will take an extra step or two to the waiting Trash receptacle on the corner. And they must be used, those brand-new Trash-boxes of ours, or presto, change! those benevolent gentlemen who gave them to us will wish them away in dire punishment, just like some old-time fairy tale pointing a moral to a lost opportunity! Like the Scriptural talents, too, they will grow by use for our modest twelve will be doubled and trebled and scattered broadcast over the city, if we prove the plan a practical one.

In all the large cities, especially in the west, is the child being made an active factor in civic beauty. He is taught it and trained to it, and the cleanliness of these beautiful cities is the best commentary on the successful solving of the problem. A gentleman from Paducah in Los Angeles last winter, was more impressed by the children carefully picking up trash or paper as they walked along the street than by any other California wonder, being more used to seeing the children throw it on the streets. A new era is dawning for Paducah, though. Let the parents, teachers and all grown-ups unite with the Civics department in making the open meeting for children on Thursday afternoon at the Woman's club house a brilliant and practical success. It is desired to have the auditorium crowded with children! It is a meeting for them and they will be given the places of the grown people. Once let the children be made alive to the importance of it and a "Paducah Beautiful" is assured. Let each child come and help to make it.

The Big Hat Problem.

The time for millinery openings is drawing near. Already the windows are taking on the hue and glow of the flowers. Some impatient souls have already donned their spring hats with the first warm day, glad to lay aside the winter's sad attire. But when one gazes upon the "Merry Widow" hats, the problem of the openings with their crush and crowd looms almost as large. It is possible that the milliners this year will have to arrange special "color days." Monday will be for blue hats, Tuesday for white, Wednesday for green, and so on through the gamut of shades. That will increase the demands upon Woman's time. It is true, but she has not much elsewhere to go these Lenten days, and it is the only solution of the big hat and the opening problem. Of course, even with color-days there can be but one hat shown at each opening, but orders can be taken from this one.

If the "Merry Widow" hats have come to stay, what will the churches

do on Easter? There will be no room for the usual congregation. The children might be sandwiched in between under the shade of the hat brims, as it were, for even when they meet the wearers will yet be some distance apart; and the men can pose as wall-flowers. Of course, no one can see the milliner, but let him beware of suggesting "hats off" or he will not have the opportunity to make the request. Sufficient unto Easter, however, is the problems thereof; the "openings" come first and the lack of display room may put the small hat in the lead.

Magazine Club.

Mrs. Louise Maxwell was hostess to the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon at her apartments in the Hotel Craig. It was a pretty spring party. The rooms were effectively decorated with bowls of yellow and white flowers. The journal motif was carried out in the yellow and white decorations of the attractive refreshments served at the conference. Literary reports, the best was in yellow and white, the angel-food cakes were yellow and white, and the lemonade was given as souvenirs.

Several of the Magazine Club members were delightfully surprised by Victor Vorls featured a "Birds" from the Digest. Mrs. Louise Maxwell and very agreeably an article entitled "Talkability." Miss Ora V. Elph represented the Atlantic Monthly with an attractive account of "Browning's Old Yellow Books," the foundation of his "Ring and the Book." Mrs. Frank Scott discussed very delightfully "The Loveliness of Success" from the North American Review. Mrs. Armour Gardner reported an interesting "Contrast Between the Woman of Today and Sixty Years Ago," as made by a woman of 93 years, a resident of Washington City.

The annual election of officers was held during the afternoon. Mrs. Charles K. Wheeler was elected president. Mrs. James Campbell Flournoy was re-elected vice president, and Miss Minnie Ratcliffe, secretary and treasurer. Miss Webb, the present president, declined re-election to the club's regret. She organized the club 15 years ago and was its first president. She is a delightful presiding officer. Her successor, Mrs. Wheeler, will fill the chair with honor. Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, a charter member of the club and a brilliant member, resigned on account of other club duties.

An attractive miscellaneous musical program was presented under the leadership of Mrs. Samuel H. Winstead. In connection with this Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells read a delightful letter from Prof. E. G. Payne, formerly of Paducah, who is now studying at Bonn-on-the-Rhine, Germany, describing a visit made to the home of Beethoven in Bonn and seeing the piano, organ and manuscripts of the arrangements.

The Matinee Musical club met on Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's club house. At the business session, which preceded the program, it was decided to give a concert and reception under the auspices of the Matinee Musical club one evening during the state federation meeting here June 3-5. The club also arranged to have a home talent concert soon after

Daily Thought.

"Envy is a confession of inner despair."

Silence may give consent to what is contemplated; but it expresses contempt for what has been said.

Nat Goodwin left the stage for his mine because "There are millions in it."

If that old Dowager of China could catch the nikado by the button that holds his hair on, she would pull him
 clear out of his kimono.

City Physician Williamson wasn't fanned any worse on that night trip
 under duress to Illinois, than lots of doctors have on night trips right
 on the best streets in Paducah.

J. C. W. Beckham will never again seek office, but his remarks about continuing to fight the battles of the common people sound wondrously
 like a purpose to place himself in a position to be forced into office.

While the officers at Washington
 are criticizing our ships and men, Admiral Evans with his wonderful fleet
 sails round the Horn and into Magdalena bay two days ahead of time.
 May the investigation of charges and the cruise of the fleet disclose all the defects of construction. There are no defects about Fighting Bob and his men.

TIT FOR TAT.

Indications point to the fact that Vaughn Bennett, the masked Young man, assassinated from ambush along the roadside near Clarksville, was
 with a party of night riders, and was the victim of retaliation. Night riders in Tennessee and Kentucky have been ruthlessly burning men's barns and shooting into their houses. Those men have attempted to prosecute the destroyers of their property, and have found the courts closed to them and county officials intimidated or in league with the outlaws. In desperation they did the only thing left to
 them; they turned night prowlers themselves. They hid in fence corners and watched. They learned the habits of the incendiaries. They received threats of loss of property,
 that would deprive their wives and children of comforts and advantages;
 they heard of bodily harm intended for them. So, as young Bennett was riding home from some unlawful enterprise, desperate men in a fence
 corner opened fire on him and his companions. They literally shot him to pieces, as one would a terrible wild beast; shot his horses and left him
 lying in the road deserted by his comrades, with the insignia of his crime
 upon his dead face.

If young Bennett was a night rider,
 in all pity let it be said, he received
 just what he should have expected.
 It was too bad one so young had to be sacrificed; too bad that some one higher up, of the older heads that planned the beginning of the reign of crime, they could not stop now if they would, was not the victim.

The night riders became possessed
 of the idea that when they intimidated
 the officers of the law, and operated in such numbers that resistance would be useless, they were safe, as no opposition has been offered them; but the deadly peril of the ambushade is a new feature. In the burley district

 the tenant farmers have already served notice that if their plant beds
 are despoiled, they will kill the cattle of the big planters. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. We don't advocate ambu-shades; we don't advise reprisals. Two wrongs don't make a right; but a night rider and a mad dog are foes
 which must be met with such weapons and in such manner as circumstances permit and direct.

IS THIS THE END?

If W. J. Deboe went too far this time, and we think he did, and the state central committee will do the party the justice of removing the hand of Deboe from the First district, where eight of the thirteen district committeemen are opposed to him, the Democratic majority of the old Gibraltar will be kept so low that Kentucky will remain permanently a Republican state. Those old time majorities have been possible only through Republican factionalism; and when a man falls so low in the estimation of his national party, after he has held such a high position as United States senator, that his recommendation is a detriment to an applicant for a position, and when he is repudiated by two-thirds of the counties of his district, it is time his grip
 is released from the throat of the Republican organization. At the last state election every county in the First district showed a gain, excepting Deboe's. He was opposed to Willson and his baneful influence was felt in the voting.

There was no real fight of Taft against Fairbanks in the First district. It was Taft against anti-Taft, and the anti-Taft faction is simply the anti-everything that is regular faction. The personnel of the alleged Fairbanks crowd tells the story. In McCracken county they fought Mayor
 Smith's nomination. In the county and district they fought Governor Willson's nomination. They were against instructions for Taft for the same reason that they were against the nomination of Mayor Smith and against the nomination of Governor Willson—because they are office hungry and hate the men holding office,
 and the men in office were for Smith
 and Willson and Taft. Anybody else
 in this instance would have served
 their purpose as well as Fairbanks,
 but he offered them certain influences
 at Frankfort, and his managers produced a slush fund, some of which slipped through sticky fingers into the outstretched palms of what followers
 they could command.

There are a few Republicans unselfishly for Fairbanks. They are principally natives of his state, and
 state pride commands their allegiance.
 Every man has a right to his own opinions in such matters, and Vice-President Fairbanks personally is a pleasing character. If those men had been making the fight for instructions, it would have been a fair contest and the will of the people of the First district would have been clearly recorded.

As far as the moral effect of the first district convention is concerned, regardless of the two delegates who will be seated in the national convention, it might as well
 not have been held. It was hurried up by Deboe, who published his call
 in a weekly paper without notifying
 members of the district committee.
 In order that he might swing the First district for Fairbanks and thus indicate a breaking away from Taft to influence other conventions, especially in Kentucky.

He failed utterly, and the other Kentucky district conventions will be held late enough that the trend of sentiment all over the United States will have been observed and the Kentucky district and the state convention will quietly clamor into the band wagon of the leader.

While First district Republicans have been fussing about control of the district, Ohio, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri have instructed for Taft. Mississippi colored leaders have repudiated the Foraker
 heresy, and isolated districts in states
 of all sections have instructed their delegates to support the national administration.

MRS. ST. JOHN

BURIED IN CALLOWAY COUNTY,
 OLD HOME, THIS AFTERNOON.

Aged Woman Died at Home of Her Daughter at Fulton Yesterday.

The body of Mrs. Ann Marie St.
 John, who died yesterday at Fulton,
 was taken to Murray, where the
 burial will be held this afternoon.
 Mrs. St. John was 78 years old and was a highly respected woman. She lived a greater portion of her life in Calloway county, being the widow of Dr. St. John. She leaves five children. Mrs. Wallace Blythe, of Hylthville, Ark.; Mrs. Harmon, of Hazel, Ky.; Mrs. M. L. Farmer, of Fulton; David St. John, of Hazel, and John St. John, of Fulton. Mrs. St.
 John was an aunt of Mrs. Robert Farmer, of Paducah, and has a number of other relatives in the city. Mrs.
 Robert Farmer accompanied the funeral party to Murray this morning.

Mr. J. A. Allen, of Guthrie, of the Planters' Protective association, was in the city today on a business trip.

THE MYSTERY

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE
 And SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

To the worth of this story there are two substantial tributes—
 first, that it was run as a serial
 by the London Sphere, a publication noted for its discrimination in the selection of serials
 and which rarely uses an American story; second, that "The Mystery" was one of the "good sellers" of 1907. This is a story of mystery and adventure
 on new lines. The style is as graphic and forceful as the
 "copy" of a skillful reporter of an important news event. The part of the hero unfolds gradually until he stands revealed as the rarest combination of whimsical humor and cool courage
 ever presented, perhaps, in fiction. The narrative, which convey the impression of reality
 not fiction, is swift and alluring,
 holding the interest of the reader
 as with hooks of steel.

CHAPTER I.

THE late afternoon sky flaunted
 its splendor of blue and gold
 like a banner over the Pacific.
 Across whose depths the trade wind dived in measured cadence. On the ocean's wide expanse a hulk
 floated singly, the forgotten relic
 of a once brave and sturdy ship, possibly the splendor of some inland ocean
 wreck, she lay black and forbidding
 in the ordered procession of waves.
 Half a mile to the east of the derelict hovered a ship's cutter, the turn of her crew's heads speaking expectancy. As for again beyond, the United States
 cruiser Wolverine outlined her severe
 and trim silhouette against the horizon. In all the spread of wave and sky no other thing was visible. For this was one of the desert parts of the Pacific, 200 miles north of the steamship route from Yokohama to Honolulu, 500 miles from the nearest land, Gardner Island, and more than 700
 northwest of the Hawaiian group.

On the cruiser's quarter deck the officers lined the starboard rail. Their interest was focused on the derelict.
 "Looks like a heavy job," said Ives,
 one of the junior lieutenants. "These flounders that lie with deck almost awash will stand more hammering
 than a mud fort."

"Wish they'd let us put some six inch shells into her," said Billy Edwards, the ensign, a wistful expression on his big, round, cheerful face
 "I'd like to see what they would do."

"Nothing but waste a few hundred dollars of your Uncle Sam's money,"
 observed Carter, the officer of the deck.
 "It takes placed charges inside and out for that kind of work."

"Barnett is the man for her then,"
 said Ives. "He's no economist when it comes to getting results. There she goes!"

Without any particular haste, as it seemed to the watchers, the hulk was shouldered out of the water as by some hidden levitation. Its outline melted into a black, outthrusting
 mist, and from that mist leaped a giant. Up, up, he towered, tossed whirling arms a hundred feet above,
 silvered and dissolved into a widespread catenact. The water below was lashed into fury, in the midst of which a mighty death agony beat back
 the troubled waves of the trade wind.
 Only then did the muffled doom boom
 of the explosion reach the ears of the spectators, presently to be followed by a whispering, swift skimming wavelet
 that swept irresistibly across the bigger surges and lapped the ship's side,
 as for a message that the work was done.

Here and there in the sea a gill of silver, a patch of purple or dull red or a glistening apparition of black showed where the unintended victims of the explosion, the gay hued open sea
 fish of the warm waters, had succumbed to the force of the shock. At the intended victim there was no sign
 save a few fragments of wood bobbing
 in a swirl of water.

When Barnett, the ordnance officer
 in charge of the destruction, returned to the ship Carter complimented him.
 "Good clean job, Barnett. She was a tough customer too."

"What was she?" asked Ives.
 "The Caroline Lemp, three masted schooner. Any one know about her?"
 Ives turned to the ship's surgeon,
 Freuden, a grizzled and brief spoken
 veteran, who had at his fingers' tips
 the lore of all the waters under the sign of the noon.

"What does the information bureau
 of the seven seas know about it?"
 "Lost three years ago—spring of 1901
 —got into lee field off the tip of the Aleutians. Some of the crew froze.
 Others got ashore. Part of survivors accounted for. Others not. Say they've turned native. Don't know myself."

"The Aleutians?" exclaimed Billy Edwards. "Great cats! What a drift!
 How many thousand miles would that be?"

"Not as far as many another derelict
 has wandered in her time, son," said Barnett.

The talk washed back and forth
 across the bulks of classic sea mysteries, new and old; of the City of Boston, which went down with all hands, leaving for record only a melancholy scrawl on a bit of board to meet the wondering eyes of a fisherman on the far Cornish coast; of the Great Queensland, which set out with 500 souls aboard, bound by a route

 unknown to a tragic end; of the Naronie, with her silent and empty life-boats alone left, drifting about the open sea, to hint at the story of her fate; of the Huronian, which ten years later, on the same day and date and hailing from the same port as the Naronie, went out into the void, leaving no trace; of Newfoundland captives who sailed, roaring with drink, under the arches of cathedral bergs, only to be imprisoned, buried and entombed in
 the one icy embrace; of craft assailed
 by the terrible one stroke lightning
 clouds of the Indian ocean, found days
 after, stone blind, with their crews
 madly hauling at useless sheets, while the officers clawed the compass and shrieked; of burnings and piercings, of pest ships and slave ships and ships
 mad for want of water, of wheeling earthquake waves and mysterious suc-
 cessions, drawing irresistibly against wind and steam power upon unknown
 currents; of stout hulks deserted in panic, although sound and seaworthy,
 and of others so swiftly dragged down
 that there was no time for any to save himself, and of a hundred other
 strange, stirring and pitiful ventures
 such as make up the inevitable part
 and inescapable romance of the ocean.
 In a pulse Billy Edwards said musing-ly:

"Well, there was the Laughing Lass."

"How did you happen to hit on her?"
 asked Barnett quickly.

"Why not, sir? It naturally came into my head. She was last seen somewhere about this part of the world, wasn't she?" After a moment's hesitation he added, "From something I heard ashore I judge we've a commission to keep a watch out for her
 as well as to destroy derelicts."

"What about the Laughing Lass?"
 asked McGinley, the paymaster, a New Englander, who had been in the service but a short time.

"Good Lord, don't you remember the Laughing Lass mystery and the disappearance of Dr. Schermerhorn?"

"Karl Augustus Schermerhorn, the man whose experiments to identify telepathy with the Marconi wireless waves made such a furor in the papers?"

"Oh, that was only a byproduct of his mind! He was an original investigator in every line of physics and chemistry, besides most of the natural sciences," said Barnett.

"The government is particularly interested in him because of his contributions to aerial photography."

"And he was lost with the Laughing
 Lass?"

"Nobody knows," said Edwards. "He left San Francisco two years ago on a hundred foot schooner with an assistant, a big brass bound chest and a ragged crew. A newspaper man named Slade, who dropped out of the world about the same time, is supposed to have gone along too. Their schooner was last sighted about 40 miles northeast of Tahiti in good shape and bound westward. That's all the record of her that there is."

"Was that Ralph Slade?" asked Barnett.

"Yes. He was a free lance writer and artist."

"I knew him well," said Barnett.
 "He was in our mess in the Philippine campaign on the North Dakota. War correspondent then. It's strange that I never identified him before with the Slade of the Laughing Lass."

"What was the object of the voyage?"
 asked Ives.

"They were supposed to be after buried treasure," said Barnett.

"I've always thought it more likely that Dr. Schermerhorn was on a scientific expedition," said Edwards. "I knew the old boy, and he wasn't the sort to care for treasure, buried or un-buried."

"Every time a ship sets out from San Francisco without publishing to all the world just what her business is all the world thinks it's one of those wild goose hunts," observed Ives.

"Yes," agreed Barnett. "Flora and fauna of some unknown island would be much more in the Schermerhorn line of traffic. Not unlikely that some of the festive natives collected the informate professor."

Various theories were advanced, withdrawn, refuted, defended, and the discussion carried them through the swift twilight into the darkness which had been hastened by a high spreading canopy of storm clouds. Abruptly
 from the crew's nest came startling
 news for those desolate seas: "Light,
 ho! Two points on the port bow!"

"The lookout had given extra voice to
 it. It was plainly heard throughout the ship."

The group of officers stared in the direction indicated, but could see nothing.
 Presently Ives and Edwards,
 who were the keenest sighted, made out a faint, suffused radiance. At the same time came a second hail from the crew's nest.

"On deck, sir."

"There's a light here I can't make anything out of, sir."

"What's it like?"

"Sort of a queer general glow."
 "General glow, indeed!" muttered Forsythe, among the group aft. "That fellow's got an imagination."

"Can't you describe it better than that?" called Carter.

"Don't make it out at all, sir. Tahiti
 my regular and proper light. Looks like a hump in a fog."

Among themselves the officers discussed it interestingly as it began to grow plainer.

"Not unlike the electric glow above
 a city seen from a distance," said Barnett as it grew plainer.

"Yes, but the nearest electric lighted
 city is some 800 miles away," objected Ives.

"Mirage, maybe," suggested Edwards.

"Pretty hard working mirage to cover that distance," said Ives. "Though I've seen 'em!"

"Great heavens! Look at that!"
 shouted Edwards.

A great shaft of pale brilliance shot
 up toward the zenith. Under it whirled

A great shaft of pale brilliance shot up toward the zenith. Under it whirled

ed a maelstrom of varied radiance,
 pale with distance, but marvellously beautiful. Forsythe passed them with a troubled face on his way below to report, as his relief went up.

"The quartermaster reports the compass behaving queerly," he said.

Three minutes later the captain was on the bridge. The great ship had swung, and they were speeding direct for the phenomenon. But within a few minutes the light had died out.

"Another sea mystery to add to our list," said Billy Edwards. "Did any one ever see a show like that before?
 What do you think, Doc?"

"Tough!" grunted the veteran
 "New to me. Volcanic, maybe."

MRS. WHITLOCK

DIES IN FEAR AWAY CALIFORNIA OF LONG ILLNESS.

J. S. Henley Succumbs to Heart Trouble at His Home in Little's Addition.

Mrs. Margaret Whitlock, of 1018 Harrison street, died Wednesday in Los Angeles, Cal., where she was spending the winter. Mrs. Whitlock with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Grimmer, left in November for Los Angeles. The trip was taken for Mrs. Whitlock's health as she had had recurrent attacks of grip each winter, and it was thought a change of climate would prevent them. She improved very much at first, and the news of her death was a shock to her friends here.

Mrs. Whitlock was the widow of Jonathan Whitlock, an early citizen of Paducah, and occupied their home on Harrison street near Tenth, when it stood quite alone on what was then all roughness. She was an earnest Christian woman of brave spirit and had borne all her sorrows and reverses with fine energy and cheerfulness. For years she had been a faithful member of the Broadway Methodist church. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Forrest Grimmer, an only child.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimmer are expected to arrive in Paducah on Monday with the body. No arrangements will be made about the funeral until then.

Mr. J. S. Henley.

Mr. J. S. Henley, 73 years old, died early this morning of heart trouble at the home of his son, Mr. Joe Henley, Little's addition. Mr. Henley had been a resident of Paducah for 15 years. He is survived by his wife, one daughter and six sons. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at Little's chapel at 2 o'clock. The burial will be in Oak Grove.

Mr. J. S. Henley.

Mrs. Sophia A. Gordon, 86 years old, died this morning at 5 o'clock of the grip at her home, Elva, Marshall county. Mrs. Gordon was a very active member of the Christian church. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, services by the Rev. Morgan Pace. The burial will be in the family cemetery one mile north of Sharp. Mrs. Gordon is survived by two sons, J. T. Gordon, 1621 Jones street, and Mr. F. N. Gordon, of Elva.

Mrs. Flora Lepley.

Mrs. Flora Lepley, 72 years old, died at 10:30 this morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. S. C. Williams, 905 Jackson street. The cause of her death was general debility. She was sick one year. Mrs. Lepley had been a resident of Paducah two years. The body of Mrs. Lepley will be taken over the N. C. & St. L. to Dixon, Tenn., tomorrow morning. The funeral and burial will

A DREAM.

The Awakening Really Less Bore.

"Far back in my childhood I held pleasant memories of the coffee berry in its natural state, and its grateful aroma when rustling over the kitchen fire," writes a venerable N. H. lady. "Although the old house is gone and a new one stands in its place, I often see in my dreams, the little coffee grinder by the window, and feel again the coffee for breakfast."

"But time passed on and the pleasure of indulgence in coffee was wholly lost in the ill effects on my nervous system. I was troubled with frequent and severe spells of headache which sadly interfered with my work. My sleep was less sound than formerly and nightmare often disturbed my little slumbers, until at last insomnia held me in its relentless grasp. I would lie awake nearly all night."

"Other troubles set in until I was pronounced incurable by several of my best physicians. They all prohibited the use of coffee. I was indeed like one under the spell of the drink habit, but I obeyed implicitly my medical advisers, for I had become a great sufferer."

"A friend who had been greatly benefited by changing from coffee to Postum gave me a cup of this health beverage to try. I found its flavor pleasant, while at the same time it agreed with me perfectly. In fact, seemed just what was needed to build me up."

"I ordered some at once, but was disappointed to find mine did not taste like my friend's—I had not boiled it long enough. After I had learned this fact and made my Postum according to directions I had not form, satisfactory results."

"Well, to make a long story short, I seemed to have found Ponce de Leon's fountain of youth, for my friend remarked that I was growing young. My mind became clearer and more vigorous, and I took up the work which I had reluctantly laid aside, and much more with it."

"If my case was incurable, as the good doctors had said, I had at least found something to allay my incompleteness, and serve for real nourishment when appetite failed. Nearly five years have passed since I drank my first cup of Postum and I am as much in love with it today as ever. "There's a reason."

take place at Dixon. Mrs. Lepley is survived by three daughters, Mrs. S. C. Williams, of this city; Mrs. C. H. Underhill, Charlotte, Tenn.; and Mrs. Fannie Wahling, Myse, Wash., and two sons, Mr. Will Lepley, of Hickman county, Tenn., and Mr. George Lepley, of Nashville, Tenn.

RAILROAD NOTES

The employees of the car department at the Illinois Central shops were at work this morning, the first time that the department has not been closed on Saturday since the Christmas holidays. It is given out now that the force had been reduced until there will be enough work that must be done to keep the present force engaged the full six days each week, and the men who are now employed feel perfectly secure in their positions. The rush of work in the locomotive department continues and it will be many weeks before the department is well up with the work.

No official statement has been made yet as to the time the consolidation of the Louisville & Nashville divisions of the Illinois Central will be made, and both Sunday and Monday have been talked of as the proper days. The consolidation is being effected in order to reduce expense by cutting off almost one office force entirely. Mr. McCabe, former superintendent of the Nashville division, will be assigned to Mr. Egan, and will have office at Princeton, employing a small office force.

Tests will be made of the new coal chute in the yards of the Illinois Central today. As soon as the chute is in working order the sand house will be moved from its present location south of the round house and be rebuilt at the south end of the coal chute. This will enable the engines to take sand at the same time they are coaled.

"TRAMP" FAITHFUL COPPER. WATCHES ON BROADWAY.

"Tramp" is the name of the newest patrolman on the Broadway beat, but he is not recognized at the police station nor is his name on the city payroll, for "Tramp" is a dog. Patrolman House and Brennan have seen the dog following closely in their footsteps for a week, but last night "Tramp" reported for duty at the police station with the night shift.

The patrolmen have fed the dog, and he never leaves them during the night but when dawn arrives "Tramp" is away and does not show up until the next night. "Tramp" is vigorous in his crusade on rats, and has caught several playing on the sidewalk in the early morning.

SAID HE WAS NIGHT RIDER FROM CALLOWAY COUNTY.

Booze did not work just right on Dave Marshall, a young man, said to be from Calloway county, and he betrayed to the patrolmen yesterday afternoon that he was a night rider. Last Saturday night he was arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct by Patrolmen Doyle and Dugan, and yesterday afternoon Patrolmen Cross and Seamon arrested him for being drunk. His story of his connection with the night riders did not save him from a fine, and his alleged pals did not shoot up the town to get him from under the clock. Marshall made no mention of night riding in court when the fine was assessed against him.

LENTZ HILL IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF LARCENY.

Lantz Hill, colored, was arrested last night by Detectives Gouffaux and Moore on a charge of grand larceny. Several months ago Hill was cleaning the home of Jesse Well, Sixth street and Broadway, and after his departure several pistols and guns were missing. Jim Hill, a brother of Lantz, was arrested for the theft, but acquitted. Hill has been out of the city, but the detectives received a tip that Lantz was in the city, and a tip pointing located him. This morning in court Hill said he would waive examination, but Judge Cross continued his trial until Monday morning.

Reyer Wants to Look Up.

Washington, March 14.—Ambassador James Bryce, of Great Britain, hopes to attend the sessions of both the Republican national convention at Chicago and the Democratic national convention at Denver in the capacity of a spectator only. This is his present plan. He feels confident of being able to get to the Republican convention in Chicago next June, but he is not so certain of being able to get to Denver when the Democrats meet.

Improvement of Tennessee.

Washington, March 14.—Provisions in the rivers and harbors appropriation bill for the expenditure of $4,000,000 in the construction of three locks and dams in the Tennessee river and the expenditure of $1,200,000 in the construction of two locks and dams in the Cumberland river, were urged before the house committee on rivers and harbors by delegations of business men and other persons from Chattanooga, Knoxville and Clarksville, Tenn.

Notice, Retail Grocers.

Notice is hereby given that the Retail Grocers' association will present any grocer or meat shop open for business tomorrow (Sunday), March 15, or any other Sunday. By order of the Retail Grocers' association.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Popular Pastor and Wife Celebrating Silver Wedding Anniversary.

The Rev. G. T. Sullivan and Mrs. Sullivan are today celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding in a quiet manner at their home, the parsonage of the Broadway Methodist church. Dr. and Mrs. Sullivan wear their 25 years of married life with a youthfulness that shows the joyousness of it has by no means waned. Dr. Sullivan's congregation were unaware of the importance of the day, but the popular minister and his wife will have a host of congratulations and good wishes when the fact is known.

Miss St. John in Cairo.

Today's Cairo Bulletin in the mention of the spectacular extravaganza "Alice in Wonderland," put on in that city last night by amateur talent, pays the following compliment to a Paducah girl, who assisted them:

"Miss Claire St. John, a pretty Paducah girl who took part in the performance of the play at Paducah came to Cairo to sing and is the guest of Miss Florence Carey. Miss St. John quite captivated everybody by her grace and fascinating ways as the leader of the Honey Girls and in the choros accompanied by the flower boys and girls."

Annual Hold Annual Election.

The Alumni Association met yesterday afternoon at the high school auditorium. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Hal S. Corbett, president; Miss Ida Niehaus, first vice president; Miss Augusta Herring, second vice president; Miss Edna Murray, recording secretary; Mrs. John J. Doran, treasurer; Mrs. Louis M. Riecke, who has filled out the unexpired term of Mrs. A. R. Myers since October most satisfactorily as president, declined reelection on account of other work. Mrs. Corbett was vice president and is an active and interested worker of the alumni. She will be a capable president.

A membership committee was appointed as follows: Misses Maggie Donigan, May Hank, Edna Murray, Emma Niehaus, Olga J. St. John, Rogers. The alumni is growing in interest and numbers all the time. Several new members were added yesterday, but it is desired that every graduate of the Paducah high school shall be enrolled as a member and this will be the work of the membership committee.

An attractive paper on "Modern American Poets" was presented by Mrs. Doran after the business session. Mrs. Doran's field was a broad one and she limited her discussion to Poe, Lowell, John Doyle O'Reilly, "Luna," Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Father Ryan and Will Carleton. It was delightfully clever and comprehensive.

Entertains Friends.

Miss Pauline Hayes entertained a number of her friends last evening at her home on Yelver avenue. Music and games were played and a pleasant time had by all present.

Social Occasion for Ramsey Society.

Mrs. Frank Smith will entertain informally the Ramsey society of the Broadway Methodist church at her home, 503 North Fourth street, on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Circle No. 2 of the society. It is a social occasion with an attractive musical program and light refreshments. A free-will offering for Circle No. 2 will be made during the afternoon.

NEWS OF COURTS

In County Court.

State Revenue Agent H. L. Anderson has brought suit in county court to enforce the assessment of back taxes against the Sutherland Medicine company and the Lax-Fos Medicine company for the years 1904 to 1907. It is claimed that the Sutherland and Medicine company has failed to assess property valued at $20,000 and the Lax-Fos company property amounting to $18,000. The suits will come up at the April term of the county court.

Under the judgment of the county court the heirs of Mrs. Annie L. Parrish will pay an inheritance tax of $262.78 and back state taxes on $290 worth of diamonds that were not assessed.

The heirs of Ed P. Noble will pay $75 inheritance tax and 20 per cent penalty which is eliminated from the Parrish judgment because the suits were brought before the specified time. The case may be appealed on this question, as the revenue agent is looking up the law of other states on the matter now.

In Police Court.

The docket this morning was: Drunk—Dave Marshall, $1 and costs. Breach of ordinance—Dallas Ray, dismissed; T. C. Nichols, dismissed. Grand larceny—Lantz Hill, colored, continued until Monday.

A Little Split Up.

Washington, March 14.—Secretary Taft was at the capitol today. He met a Kentucky republican congressman. "Things look rather split up in the Fire, Kentucky district," was the report of the secretary upon the result of the republican convention in the Fire, Kentucky district. The member assured the secretary that the Taft delegates were the "regulars" and would be seated at the Chicago convention.

BEEF SCARCE

BUTCHERS' PUT UP PRICE OF CHOICEST STEAKS.

Poultry is scarce on market, but Eggs Have Taken Another Tumble in Prices.

Good beef is scarce, and the butchers have given the retail price of choice steaks a boost. Dealers are obliged to pay from 3 1/2 to 5 cents for the stock on foot, and have difficulty in securing enough to supply the demand, they say. Corresponding to the scarcity the price on the choice steaks has been brought up from 12 1/2 cents to 15 cents a pound, and the common steaks are selling for 12 1/2 cents instead of 10 cents. The butchers are unable to explain the shortage, but it keeps a butcher working his wits off to get cattle. The average price of good beef is from 3 to 1 cents a pound, but the majority of dealers are paying 5 cents today for the live meat.

Lent has caused the sale of meat to drop a little, but no relief is promised as the live dealers are selling the live meat at almost unheard of prices. The river has fallen some, and fish has begun to rise again, and this will do the work of a charm, and the dealers can buy at the large fish wharf for 1 cent a pound. Yesterday, when the river was high, a good dressed pork for 1 cent, which is one of the lowest prices reached this year. A great deal of pork is being sold. Because of the ready sale of pork the price of hams has fallen from 15 cents to 12 cents, but there is no any activity on the market in this line at the reduced price.

Poultry is scarce too, and this morning

ing dressed chickens were selling for 10 to 15 cents, which is high for the spring. It is too early for the young chickens to relieve the pluck and the high prices may continue for some time.

As said before, eggs have dropped to 15 cents a dozen, and one dealer is supplying all the demands of his customers at 11 cents. The warm weather has caused activity in the farm yards, and the country people are bringing in so many eggs that the local storage people have been forced to drop the price.

APPROPRIATION OF $222,190,392

Carried by Postoffice Bill Which Passed House.

This is $125,000 More Than Was Reported by Committee—Other Business in U. S. Congress.

IS THE LONGEST IN HISTORY.

Washington, March 11.—The bill providing for the shipment of material intended for the Panama canal in American ships passed the senate, 51-40, of North Carolina, spoke the ocean mail shipping bill.

Carrying the largest appropriation in all its history, $222,190,392, the postoffice appropriation bill passed the house, having been under consideration for some time. This is $125,000 more than was reported by the committee. Chairman Overstreet, when the reading of the bill had been concluded, waged a vigorous fight on the proposition to increase the pay of letter carriers, which was voted into the bill last Wednesday, but that action was confirmed 136 to 126. The closing debate on the bill dwelt mainly on the rural delivery service, the only amendment getting through being one increasing by $200,000 the appropriation heretofore.

The naval militia bill was reported favorably to the house by Chairman Foss, of the naval affairs committee. The purpose of the bill is to place the naval militia on the same footing with the army by a bill recently reported.

The house committee on naval affairs agreed to recommend the bill authorizing 1,500 additional enlisted men for the marine corps and necessary officers. The bill raises the rank of the commanding officers of the major corps from brigadier general to major general commandant, and provides for an appointment of additional officers.

After the passing of a number of private bills, an agreement was reached to take up the pension appropriation bill.

A bill was introduced by Representative Mann, of Illinois, by request, which makes it unlawful to send from one state to another any habit-forming drug except on original prescription or written order of a physician or veterinary surgeon.

PISO'S

Consuming Consumption

even in its most insidious form is not always incurable. The first intelligent step in the treatment of the disease is to stop the violent paroxysms of coughing, which tear the lungs and enfeeble the system. Piso's Cure has permanently cured many consumptive coughs, as shown by court testimony because its antiseptic, healing and soothing qualities act directly on the lungs and bronchial passages, stopping the coughing and gently healing the irritated tissues. Even the most advanced consumptive coughs have responded quickly to Piso's Cure, which being absolutely free from opiates or habit-forming drugs is the ideal remedy for every form of coughs, colds, bronchitis in young and old. For nearly half a century Piso's Cure has been demonstrating that the most advanced form of chest affections

Can be Cured CURE

can. They classified Maine and Rhode Island as doubtful, and Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Connecticut as mixed. Of the Middle Atlantic states, New York, of course, was conceded to Governor Hughes, Pennsylvania to Knox, Delaware rated as doubtful and New Jersey mixed. North Dakota and Minnesota were the only states in the middle west claimed absolutely by the Taft men.

Changes.

It is now in order to consider how the situation has changed and any change. The Republican national convention with its 280 delegates will be the work of 141 state, territorial and district conventions. The general view here is that with the exception of Kentucky Mr. Taft will have the vote of the entire southern delegation. It is time, of course, that his opponents claim stray delegates in Alabama and North Carolina, and that contests are apt to be made in many of the other states, notably Louisiana, Florida and Tennessee, but these tactics will not prevent the southern vote from going to the administration candidate. The Taft forces outside of Kentucky, if our information is correct, are too well organized for the opposition. There is the general view that it was absurd to oppose him with Foraker in the southern states. The greater battleground is apt to be in New England. The delegates from this section cast eighty-two votes.

Hughes Only Dangerous Factor.

There is only one candidate who can contest there with Secretary Taft, and that is Governor Hughes. A great factor in the success of the latter is apt to be the attitude of Senator W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts. Much has appeared to the effect that he might become the manager of Governor Hughes. That Senator Crane is badly needed in this capacity your correspondent has repeatedly pointed out. As yet, however, the Massachusetts man has given no indication of joining the fortunes of the governor, though, of course, he is in sympathy with the forces opposed to Taft. Lenders here believe that more than two-thirds, if not all the delegates from New England, will vote for Taft at Chicago. There is no doubt that Governor Hughes has impressed the Republicans of that section, but the Taft men have the organization, and that, of course, means everything.

It is now in order to consider the middle Atlantic states, New York and Pennsylvania, of course, will be for their favorite sons. It may be safely said, though, that Secretary Taft will be the second choice of both. Some time ago a story appeared to the effect that the federal administration forces in the state were alarmed over the growth of the Cannon sentiment, and feared that if the delegates dropped the governor after the first ballot they would go over to the man from Illinois. Politicians here smiled. The reason why was easy of explanation. The Republican organization is in control of the federal administration and hence the delegates named are not apt to be for anyone but Taft as second choice.

New Jersey Contest.

There is apt to be a three-cornered fight in New Jersey between Governor Hughes, Taft and Senator Knox. The general view is that the secretary will get most if not all the delegates. He has the support of Governor Fort and some of the more powerful Republican leaders. There is Hughes' sentiment in New Jersey. A Mark Hannan could make delegates of it, but our governor has none. Delaware, of course, is looked upon as belonging to Senator Knox. The Taft people rate it as doubtful. Patronage, of course, has always played more or less a part in that state and the administration forces count upon its influence to swing the delegation over to Taft at Chicago. La Follette, of course, will have the Wisconsin delegates, if Iowa does not present Governor Albert A. Cummins as a favorite son, and the impression is that it will not, La Follette may be the choice of that delegation.

La Follette's Candidacy.

The Taft managers claim Minnesota but the belief prevails that they will have to reckon with the Wisconsin senator there also. Two months ago the admirers of La Follette were claiming everything in sight. They urged that he would not alone have his own state, but part of the delegations also from Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Oklahoma, Utah, Michigan, Colorado, Iowa and many of the Pacific states. There is no doubt, of course, that the senator is popular with the rank and file of his party in this territory. But Missouri and Kansas have not lived up to the predictions of his managers, and these are not the only incidents in which they are apt to be disappointed. The Taft managers here state that their candidate will be the second choice of the La Follette delegates. To make things even, the followers of the senator assert that next to the Ohio man La Follette is the choice of the president for the nomination. The only candidate, barring Taft, who has developed any real strength during the last two weeks is Uncle Joe Cannon. The Illinois convention will meet on March 26, the same day as that of Rhode Island, and this will no doubt help along the boom of the speaker. There is one objection among eastern Republicans to the candidacy of Joe Cannon, and that is his age. Another is his stand-pat attitude toward revising the tariff.

Insured Feb. 17 Died 3 Weeks Later Policy Paid in Full

Same day proofs of death reached Home Office. The COMMONWEALTH is the only company that pays its Industrial Policies PROMPTLY and IN FULL—no matter when death occurs. Other companies pay only one-half if insured dies within one year from date of policy. Read the following letter:

Winchester, Ky., March 8, 1908.
Gentlemen: I want to thank you for your promptness in settling claim under policy No. 53,765, on the life of Annie Stokely, who died March 6, 1908, as the proofs of death were only received at your Office on the 7th inst., and that same evening you mailed check to your Superintendent, Mr. H. F. Bensinger, with which to settle the claim. Also your policy contains the most liberal provisions, as this policy was issued on Feb. 17, 1908, about three weeks since, and still your Company has paid the policy in full. Again thanking you for your kindness and promptness in this matter, and assuring you that I will do all I can in behalf of the Commonwealth, I am, very truly yours,
RANDALL STOKELY, Beneficiary.

All Industrial Policies Fully Paid Up at Age 75.

Write a postal card to W. D. Asldrey, Superintendent of Industrial Department, Eagle Building, Sixth and Broadway, Paducah, Ky., and an agent will be glad to call and explain fully the many exclusive features of COMMONWEALTH Insurance. You do not obligate yourself in any way by talking it over.

GUM SPRINGS ROAD BEING WASHED BY HIGH WATERS.

Residents Ask That Road Be Moved Short Distance Farther Away.

Citizens residing along the Olive church and Gum Springs road have petitioned the county court that the road be changed, so that the road will run 350 feet further away from Gum Springs creek than at present. It is claimed that the road is badly damaged by the creek rising and heavy rains and washing the road bed away. The petition will lie over the required length of time and then be acted upon.

master. Mr. Payne also told of the opera season in Bonn, touching on much that he knew would interest his musical friends at home, and the letter was quite a feature of the program.

Chairmen of Committees for Federation Entertainment.

The local Federation council, which is composed of the officers of the six federated clubs of the city and Mrs. Edmund M. Post, of the State Federation, met on Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's club house. Chairmen for the various committees that will assist in the entertaining of the State Federation here in June, were appointed as follows:

Credentials and badges, Miss Elizabeth Shmidt. Place of meeting, Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips. Program, Mrs. Louis M. Rieker. Reception and entertainment, Mrs. Mildred Davis. Homes, Miss Helen Bullitt Lowry. Depot reception, Mrs. E. G. Boone. Decoration, Mrs. James Campbell Flournoy. Press, Mrs. Edmund M. Post. Mail and information, Mrs. Edw. H. Rivers. Fishes and pages, Miss Marjorie Scott.

Mrs. James A. Rudy is chairman of the council; Mrs. Elbridge Palmer, assistant chairman; Mrs. A. R. Meyer, secretary; Miss Minnie Ratcliffe, treasurer.

J. N. O. F. Club.

The J. N. O. F. club held its final meeting for this season on Thursday night with Miss Mae Bougeno and Miss Lillian Bougeno, 165 Clements street. The club has featured a number of attractive meetings during the winter. The evening was spent socially. Dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Minnie and Vera Wilson, Edith Marsh, Ruby McDonald, Eunice Quarles, Lottie Loftin, May and Lillian Bougeno, and Messrs. Virgil Cooper, Myrtle Cooper, Aerial Simmons, Harley Rector, Velvin Quarles, Lloyd Powell and Lawrence Jones.

Ladies' Auxiliary O. R. C. Celebrate Anniversary.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the O. R. C. celebrated its first anniversary by a pleasant entertainment on Thursday afternoon at the Knights of Columbus hall. Mrs. Hen. Harris read an interesting paper. Attractive music was rendered by Miss Josie Hazebach and Mrs. Spence. In a guessing contest Mrs. J. J. Flynn won the first prize, a bunch of carnations. The second prize went to Mrs. W. R. Kelly. Refreshments were served.

Kalosophic Club.

The Kalosophic club held an interesting meeting on Friday morning at the Woman's club house. Miss Catherine Quigley gave in brief the "History of Italy from Constantine to the Fall of Rome." "The Catacombs of Rome" were described by Mrs. Edward Bringham. Miss Ethel Brooks' paper, "The Baths of Caracalla," was read by Miss Anna May Yelzer. Miss Frances Wallace presented "Current Events."

Delphi Club.

Three clever papers on the "Sarcophagi of Egypt" were presented on Tuesday morning before the Delphi club at the Carnegie library rooms. "Mohammed and the Koran," by Mrs. Lillard Sanders; "Amru-bu-el-asl and Fustat," by Mrs. Muscoe Burnett; "The Caliphs and the Mameluke," by Miss Mattie Fowler.

Weddings.

Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Miss Lelne Stiles and Mr. Carl Moss on St. Valentine's day at the residence of Mrs. Annie Bell, 1151 North Twelfth street, by Dr. T. B. Hall.

The bride is an attractive young woman, and is the only daughter of Mrs. Cora Layton, 222 South Sixth street. Mr. Moss is a popular employee of the Fowler-Crumbaugh company and is a sterling young business man. Mr. and Mrs. Moss are at home to their friends at 819 Harrison street.

About People.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes and little Miss Emma Boyd have moved from their home, 1627 Jefferson street, to Miss Ferriman's at Broadway and Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips expect to open their country home "Woodland," about the first of April and will move out for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Webb returned home this week from Marinette, Wis., and other northwestern points. They will be for the present with Capt. and Mrs. John L. Webb at 815 Madison street.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory are arranging to move from the Fowler home on Broadway, which they have occupied this winter, to their country place, "Rustle Hall," at once. Miss Lillian Gregory, who has spent the past year abroad studying and traveling, will be at home about the first of June. She will call for this country with her chaperone, Miss Traub, of Nashville, in May.

Prof. E. G. Payne, who has been abroad since last summer attending the University at Bonn, is spending his two months' vacation in a tour of Italy and Switzerland. He will return to Bonn for further study. Mr. Payne has been appointed a commissioner of education from Kentucky since he has been abroad. His genius for hard work and good work and his splendid mind will aid him in taking full advantage of the exceptional opportunities his two years abroad will present.

GREAT LITTLE BOOK FOR BUSINESS MEN.

Goes Down to First Principles; Helps to Success and Nearly Everyone Can Afford It at the Price Named Here.

A little book called "As a Man Thinketh," by James Allen, is winning its way into the hearts of more business men than nearly any book going just now.

The reason for the popularity of the little book among business men seems to be that it reveals some old and tried principles in a new and practical way. In short, it shows the commercial value of those principles—how to apply them to the problems of everyday business life.

The book is not an exhaustive treatise on the much written upon subject of the power of thought. It is suggestive rather than explanatory, which probably is a further reason why business men are especially enthusiastic over it.

George S. Parker, who makes and sells the "Lucky Curve" Fountain Pen, in speaking of this book said: "As a Man Thinketh is one of the greatest little books for business men that I have ever read. I bought a great many copies of this book to give to my business friends and associates."

Henceforth "As a Man Thinketh" has been sold, but it is now being given away by The Sheldon School of Chicago. The Sheldon School teaches the Science of Salesmanship by correspondence. The success of the School is attested by the fact that 20,000 men, representing every line of business, have taken the Course.

You don't have to be actually engaged in selling goods in order to profit by the Sheldon Science. Salesmanship is a vital principle. Every man has something to sell, and the man who understands and applies the principles of successful salesmanship, realizes success in life.

The Sheldon people say they are willing to give this little book away because there is so much good Sheldon doctrine in it, and anyone who reads it usually gets right in line for the work of The Sheldon School.

However that may be, the fact remains that if you desire a copy of "As a Man Thinketh," and would also be interested in seeing some literature on the Science of Salesmanship, Course, you can get the book without charge by simply sending your name and address with request, to The Sheldon School, 1318 Republic Building, Chicago.

MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE

Company Offers New Kind of Policy to Public.

Characterized by Cash Surrender,
Loan and Paid-Up Value After
One Year.

UNUSUALLY LIBERAL IN TERMS

An unique departure has been made by the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company in the way of a new policy. This new policy is characterized by a liberality which other companies have not yet attempted. Briefly, these are the winning points about the new 1908 policy: After only one payment it has a cash surrender value, a loan value, a paid-up insurance value and an extended insurance value. When it is considered that other companies do not offer these advantages until the policy holder has made at least two (and some of them three or four) payments, it will be instantly recognized that this is a radically liberal policy contract.

Governor Hughes, in his famous insurance investigations, while mercilessly criticizing other companies, paid the Mutual Benefit the highest possible compliment by selecting their policy as the model policy recommended to the Armstrong committee. It is said that the agents of other companies are now making strenuous effort to get this splendid law repealed. Mr. T. M. Nance, 105 Fraternity Building, old phone 835-R, is the Mutual Benefit's District Manager and will take great pleasure in explaining this new policy to you and demonstrating why the Mutual Benefit leads all others.

"To Horsemen."

The grandest horse Kentucky has yet produced was "Chester Dare." Since his decease breeders in many states are seeking the blood of this noted sire of the horses. "Rebel Dare," No. 1884, at the Lang farm, two miles from Paducah on the Ill. Knoxville road, is a son of "Chester Dare," backed on his dam's side by the champions Red Squirrel and Duruth. It is the owner's present intention of selling "Rebel Dare" in the autumn to eastern parties, and the season of 1908 will very probably be the only opportunity of breeders being convenient to a Chester Dare horse.

CHAIRMAN NEW MAKES DENIAL

Committee Will Not Control Nomination.

Full Committee Will Hear Contests
Under Rules and Regulations
to Expedite Business.

ALL WILL HAVE FAIR CHANCE

Washington, March 14.—Harry S. New, chairman of the Republican national committee, answering recently published assertions that the committee will be "controlled" by one candidate or combination of candidates, and that therefore the presidential nomination to be made at Chicago will be determined practically by the national committee, said today:

"As a member of the national committee I can say that the committee will hear all contests and decide each case on its merits, sustaining justice and party regularity with no thought as to preference of contestants for any candidate or candidates.

"I speak not alone for myself, but for the members of the committee who have expressed themselves to me on the subject. I have no hesitancy in declaring the spirit I have indicated will constitute the only 'control' in the committee.

"All contests will be heard by the full committee. No sub-committee will be named to pass upon such questions, and there will be no division of labor or of the responsibility. Every man claiming the right to a seat in the convention will be afforded an opportunity to present his claim to the entire committee and consideration of each case will be restricted only by such rules and regulations as may be necessary to expedite the hearings and reach a fair and impartial conclusion."

Paris, March 14. — It became known here that Mme. Anna Gould, who sailed for New York on the steamer Adriatic, booked her passage on that vessel under the name of Miller. She had originally taken passage for herself and her children on the Kronprinz Wilhelm, but changed her plans at the last moment.

Although she had the written consent of her former husband, Count Henri de Castellane, to take the children out of France, she adopted the name of changing steamers and using an assumed name in case the count should attempt at the last moment to prevent the children's departure.

WE'RE STARTING THE SPRING SEASON OF 1908 WITH STIRRING SALES

NO place like Harbour's for values. True last year--true this year--true next year. The reasons are simple; because we buy for cash, cash only; because we keep down operating expenses as no Broadway house does or can, therefore we don't have to add such large profits; because of our quick selling prices, we sell great quantities and selling great quantities means that we buy great quantities and secure all concessions that large quantities paid for in cash can obtain. For these and other substantial reasons no other Paducah house sells good merchandise, day in and day out, so reasonably as this store can and does. Come and see. Get knowledge, for knowledge is power when allowed to direct your action, then you will sustain us in the statement that we lead all other stores in value giving.

DRESS GOODS.

Do you realize what is actually going on here in dress goods? Unless you have seen them at other stores at higher prices you can hardly realize what this sale really means. While some are only a few cents lower some are 25c lower than other stores ask. The savings are worth coming for. We are making a very extensive showing from 24c up to 98c a yard.
